Vienna, June 29. N. S. The Diet of Hungary being met again at Presburg, the Emperor has communicated to them his Anſwer to the Grievances of the Kingdom, which the Eſtates preſented to him when they were laſt aſſembled. The Anſwer contains in Subſtance, That his Imperial Majeſty will inviolably obſerve, as the Rule of his Government, the Charter which he granted them at the time of his Inauguration; that in caſe of Default of Iſſue Male deſcended from the late Emperor Leopold, it ſhall be free for the Eſtates of the Kingdom to proceed to a new Election of a King; that they ſhall be governed according to the Laws of their own Kingdom, and not after the manner of the other Hereditary Provinces of the Houſe of Auſtria; that whilſt his Imperial Majeſty cannot reſide in Hungary, he promiſes to reſide in ſome other Kingdom or Province adjoining to it. The previous Citation of a Criminal before his Impriſonment not being required either by the antient or modern Laws of the Kingdom, becauſe of the Danger that may ariſe to the Publick from giving Criminals an opportunity to make their Eſcape by ſuch a warning, his Imperial Majeſty tells the Diet that he cannot intirely comply with their Requeſt in this Matter; but aſſures them, that the Caſe of High-Treaſon excepted, no Nobleman ſhall be taken into Cuſtody for any Crime whatſoever, without a previous Citation. The Emperor promiſes, that the Nobility ſhall not be taxed but in a legal manner, and that their Houſes ſhall be exempted from the quartering of Soldiers. But becauſe of the Impoſſibility to aſſemble a Diet in the regular manner, in the caſe of any ſudden Irruption of an Enemy, or inward Commotion, his Imperial Majeſty recommends it to the Eſtates, to delegate to ſome of their number a Power, to raiſe, upon any ſuch Emergency, the Supplies which he and they together ſhall judge to be neceſſary for reſtoring Peace and Quiet to the Kingdom. The Emperor does not think fit to revoke in general all the Forfeitures that have already paſt, but promiſes Redreſs to ſuch particular Perſons as can ſhew themſelves to be injured. He thinks it reaſonable that Children ſhould ſuffer in their Eſtates, by the Forfeiture of their Parents, for the Crime of High-Treaſon; but declares, that the innocent Brother or Wife of the Criminal ſhall not be involved in the Forfeiture. His Imperial Majeſty inſiſts on his Right to thoſe Lands which have been lately recovered from the Turks; and ſays, that if any of the ancient Proprietors of thoſe Lands be ſtill alive, and lay Claim to them, it is but reaſonable, that before they obtain Poſſeſſion of them, they pay their proportionable Share of the Charges of the late expenſive War againſt the Turks. His Imperial Majeſty promiſes to call a Diet once in three Years. He ſays, that by the Law of Hungary, Church-men never had the free Power to diſpoſe by Will of their Goods, but that at their Death all their Effects fell to the King's Exchequer. However, the Emperor conſents, that as to their moveable Goods they may make an Agreement for them with Commiſſioners whom he ſhall appoint for that end. But all their Immoveables muſt go to the King's Exchequer, as formerly. He repreſents to the Diet the Neceſſity of having the Exchequer of Hungary to depend on the Court of Exchequer reſiding in Vienna, that he may be duly informed of the Management of his Revenue in that Kingdom. He cannot conſent, that either the Exchequer or Chancery of Hungary ſhould receive their Inſtructions from the Diet, that being the King's Prerogative alone. The Emperor tells the Diet, that they cannot but be ſenſible of the Neceſſity of imploying foreign Officers in Hungary; and that the Hungarian Nation would have incurred the Cenſure of the higheſt Ingratitude, if after having been delivered out of the Turkiſh Bondage by the Blood and Treaſure of the Germans, they had baniſhed their Deliverers out of their Country. The King being the Founder of the Churches of Hungary, it is his Right to confer the Church Benefices on whomſoever he pleaſes; but he promiſes to have always a particular Regard for the Natives of Hungary. He deſires the Diet to recommend to him ſome Perſons of Integrity, who are well verſed in the Laws and Cuſtoms of their Country, that he may imploy them in reviewing the Laws of the Kingdom, and enquiring into the Abuſes of the Courts of Judicature. As to the Affair of the three Religions received in Hungary, the Emperor ratifies the Settlement made in that Matter by the laſt Diets held at Oedenburg and Presburg. Which Settlement is the great Grievance the Proteſtant Eſtates have been all along complaining of, as an overthrowing of the Legal Security they formerly enjoyed for their Religion. Seeing the Eſtates of the Kingdom complain, that the Peace of Carlowitz was concluded without the Counſel and Advice of any of the Hungarian Nation, the Emperor promiſes to call into his Council ſome of his Hungarian Subjects in all future Treaties with the Ottoman Port. His Imperial Majeſty agrees, that in the next enſuing Diet a Council of Native Hungarians be named by his Majeſty and the States, for the Adminiſtration of the Affairs of that Kingdom, and deſires the preſent Diet to conſider of the manner in which the ſaid Council ought to be eſtabliſhed, that there may remain nothing to be done, done in the following Diet, but to name the Perſons who are to be Members of this Council. He promiſes to conſign to the Diet ſeveral authentick Copies of the Charter he granted them at his Coronation, to be depoſited in the Places of Hungary mentioned in the Requeſt of the States, and to ſend a Copy of it to the King of Spain, as being preſumptive Heir to the Crown of Hungary; but refuſes to give Copies of it to the Pope, or the States of the Empire. He tells the Diet that he will give no other Security to Prince Ragotzi and his Adherents, beſides the aforeſaid Charter, and a legal Redreſs in a General Diet of the Kingdom of any Abuſes that may have crept into the Government; and that ſeeing Prince Ragotzi and his Adherents have hitherto pertinaciouſly refuſed to accept of the Offers of Mercy and Pardon that have been made them, there remains no other way for putting an end to the preſent Troubles, but to declare all and every one of thoſe that have taken up Arms, if they do not return to their Allegiance within a Month's time, Traitors and Enemies to their Country, and all their Goods to be forfeited to the King's Exchequer. His Imperial Majeſty concludes his Anſwer to the Grievances, with an Exhortation to the Eſtates of the Kingdom, to accept theſe his Reſolutions with all Duty and Submiſſion, to be contented with them, and not to ſpend time in vain and needleſs Replies, but to put a ſpeedy end to the preſent Diet.

From the Camp before Tournay, July 11. N. S. Our Approaches of the three ſeveral Attacks have hitherto been carried on with very good Succeſs and little Loſs; the Trenches of the Attack againſt the Cittadel are relieved daily by a Lieutenant-General, a Major-General, and a Brigadier, with four Battalions; and at the two other by the like number of General Officers, and three Battalions at each, beſides Workmen. The Batteries for Ruining the Defences are almoſt finiſhed, and there are near two hundred Boats come up the Schelde as far as our Bridges, with the heavy Artillery and Ammunition, which have been landing there two Days, and will be brought to the Batteries with all the Expedition that can be made: At this time the Ways are almoſt every where unpaſſable, by reaſon of the great Rains which have fallen for ſome Weeks paſt. The Marſhal de Villars continues ſtill with his Army between Lens and la Baſſée.

Hague, July 12. N. S. Letters from the Camp before Tournay ſay, that ſoon after the Place was Inveſted the Governor called a Council of War, in which it was debated, whether they ſhould defend the Town and Cittadel together, or, without pretending to maintain the Town, retire into the Cittadel, but it was at laſt concluded, that they would defend both in the beſt manner they were able. However, this having been the Subject of a Diſpute, confirms us in the belief of our former Advices, which ſaid the Town was in a weak Condition. A Letter, bearing date the 27th of the laſt Month, from the Marſhal Villars to the French King, has been lately intercepted, in which that General acquaints his Maſter that he expected to be Attacked within half an Hour, and doubted not but he ſhould give his Majeſty reaſon to be well ſatisfied with his Conduct.

Falmouth, July 2. Yeſterday the Jacobus Dogger of London, laden with Salt, arrived here in fifteen Days from Lisbon; and this Day ſailed out the Catherine of Briſtol, being laden with Fiſh for Leghorn. Two Packet Boats continue in Harbour.

Yarmouth July 4. Yeſterday the outward bound Ruſſia Fleet, with their Convoys, came to anchor on the back of our Sands, and being this Day joined by divers Ships from this Place, proceeded on their Voyage.

Portſmouth, July 5. Yeſterday her Majeſty's Ships the Cheſter and Lynn ſailed from Spithead into the Harbour. Admiral Baker, on Board the Starling-caſtle, continues ſtill at Spithead, with her Majeſty's Ships the Somerſet, Pembroke, Reſolution, Winchelſea, Pearl, and the Griffin Fire-ſhip. The Exeter, with the Tranſports and Merchant-men bound for Plimouth, continues ſtill at Saint Hellens.

The Rt. Hon. the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery, &c. Lord High-Admiral of Great Britain, is pleaſed to direct, that all the Men belonging to her Majeſty's Ship the Dreadnought, which are in or about London, do forthwith repair to their Duty on Board the ſaid Ship at Chatham, to diſpatch the neceſſary Works of Rigging her, and taking in her Guns, Stores and Proviſions, otherwiſe they will be taken up and Puniſhed as Deſerters.

The Right Honourable the Earl of Pembroke, Lord High-Admiral of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. is pleaſed to direct, that the Men belonging to her Majeſty's Ship the Royal Anne Galley, which are now abſent from her, do immediately repair on Board the ſaid Ship at Woolwich, otherwiſe they will be taken up and puniſhed as Deſerters.

Notice is hereby given, That the Officers and Company of Her Majeſty's Ship Dunkirk, will on Thurſday the 14th Inſtant, at the Prize Office in York Buildings, be paid their Proportions of the Prize-Ship Hecquart, according to the Directions in Her Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration of the 15th of June, 1702.
